Information Wanted Fatal Boat Collision

SYNOPSIS:

On 08-09-2007 at approximately 1533 hours, the victim was operating his Kawasaki stand-up jet ski on the Colorado River near the entrance to Mohave Wash Cove. The victim was traveling east to west heading to the California shoreline when the vessel made a turn to the left (port). The suspect vessel, described as a single engine 27-29 foot Fountain powerboat with black and red stripe, was traveling south on the Colorado River. The Fountain was being operated by an unknown male at approximately 60 miles per hour with an unknown female in the passenger's seat. As the victim was making his turn, the Fountain powerboat struck the victim causing fatal injuries. An extensive search for the Fountain powerboat was conducted immediately following the crash but attempts have been unsuccessful to date.
